NORWAY AND VICINITY

Alfred Hibbard is putting an addition on his stable.

Mrs. Ella R. Hildridge made a flying visit to her home in Bethel last week.

Mrs. Abigail Stone is visiting in Paris at her daughters, Mrs. William R. Henry's.

Mrs. J. W. Ramsdell of Lynn is visiting relatives and friends in Norway and vicinity.

Mrs. Thomas Hayes will open a restaurant in the place vacated by A. H. Bodkin.

O. L. Stone preached in Paris, last Sabbath at the Biscoe school house in the afternoon.

D. L. Joslin has gone to the camp ground at East Poland to paint his cottage at that place.

Owen Brooks has returned from Falmouth and Portland where he has been spending his vacation.

Laura Stickles and Annie Thomas from Auburn were the guests of their friend, Wealthy Cox, last Sunday.

The W. C. T. U. Mothers' Clubs of Norway will meet with Mrs. Roswell Frost for a basket picnic, Tuesday, July 5th. If stormy postponed until the first pleasant day.

The Radcliffe Shoe Company is taking account of stock at the Norway factory. It will take some time, as each department calls for a large amount of care in the accounting.

Augustus A. Ladd, who has been working in Spinney shop for some months past has given up his job and has gone to Lewiston as night watchman for the Lewiston Journal.

Deputy Sheriff A. P. Bassett seized a gallon of liquor at Beverly Trueman last week. It was addressed to E. Turner and is supposed to be intended for illegal sale. It was libeled, and the hearing is to be July 9.

Reduced rates upon the Grand Truck for Independence day have been granted as follows: Tickets sold at one first class fare each way, to any station in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, for round trip, good going July 3 and 4 returning until July 7.

Editor F. W. Sanborn and Mrs. Sanborn are taking a vacation this week. They have gone to Kineo, where the annual meeting of the Maine Press Association is being held. It isn't often that they can both leave their duties in the office, and it is hoped the change and rest will benefit them very much.

A party of four young ladies are at the Witt cottage by the lake, from Littleton, Mass. They are here for a couple of weeks and express much delight with the lake and its surroundings, and will doubtless spread the story of the charm of our lakeside life among their friends. "We are advertised by our loving friends."

We have received from Irving L. Long, who wrote that "Adventures" letters from Cuba, until his troop left the island, copies sent us of Chattanooga Daily Times containing articles about camp Thomas and the field day of the troops stationed there. In the paper is a notice of presentation of a watch to a comrade, who is retiring from the service.

For July 4th, a base ball tournament has been arranged, at the fair grounds, Lewiston Y. M. C. A., West Paris, Norway, and Bethel have entered. The first game at 10 a. m. At 2 p. m. the second teams will play and the winning team will then play the winner of the forenoon game. A purse of $100 is advertised, and these strong teams will put up a great fight for it.

Tuesday morning, George S. Ames came into the ADVERTISER office, bringing a berry basket filled with little white spheres, about an inch in diameter. They were turtle's eggs, which he found in Jonathan Whitehouse's garden, that morning, having all been laid the night before. Forty-six were in the basket, and he broke three getting them out. He says the turtle was a big one, judging from the tracks which were a foot or more apart.

The Browning Reading Club celebrated the last meeting of the season, Monday evening, with a banquet at the home of the president, Mrs. H. L. Libby. Plans were made for the next year's work, the committee on programme giving their report. A short literary programme was carried out. Among other good things Fannie Cummings read a selection from Robert Browning and the president gave an original poem.

The Chapman Concert.

There can be little question that the Chapman concerts are a popular feature in Norway. We are not so situated that large numbers can attend the great Music Festival gatherings, at least not more than one of these concerts, but when Prof. Chapman brings his artists to town, he is sure of a select and appreciative gathering, and one as large as circumstances will allow.

Saturday night is not the best night for our merchants to attend at the opera house, and of course this fact tended to keep down the attendance, last Saturday evening, so there were many vacant seats. Enthusiasm, however, was strongly shown and each of the artists was vigorously applauded.

Prof. Chapman played the accompaniments in his usual style, that of the true artist, in sympathy and helpfulness of the one who is in the more prominent part of the number.

Mr. Archambault is all that was promised. His rich, full, deep voice would fill a much larger hall than ours. His manner was boyish yet pleasing and he immediately made himself popular with his audience. His selections were three in number, each of which was encored.

Miss Fry proved herself the artist at once. The natural quality of the voice is excellent, and the training and culture have been along the lines to make the very best of it in attainment and power. Two selections were encored, while the double number was received with appreciation little less marked. Her duet with Archambault was also well received, a repetition being demanded.

Hans Kronold is a favorite with a Norway audience. His first appearance here was a signal success, some years ago, and each time since that day he has won new laurels, the best we can give, here. His selections at this last concert and their reception were up to the standard of by-gone years. Each one was encored heartily.

An artistic success would be the verdict of all who were present at this concert.

We feel it best to offer the managers a suggestion, however. We think, we feel, the pulse of the people and can measure it correctly. The suggestion is this: It would not detract from the artistic quality of the program to have a little more of the popular in it; not to be made up of the vandyke common, transient trash, but there is certainly much popular music today that has a permanent value, and when interpreted by the true artist, its inspirational value for common people is as great, if not greater, than that which is so far beyond our ken. We suggest, then, that there be about one-half especially of vocal selections of the popular rendered in English to include some of the old familiar pieces, and the other half to be of the very highest and best, such as all the program has been heretofore.

This is not a criticism nor least of all a faultfinding, but it comes from a music lover, and we believe represents the convictions of that great class, the intelligent, earnest, true-hearted public. The suggestion is made for what it is worth.

Lawson Frost returns to Boston, this Thursday.

William J. Jones was in Augusta on business, Tuesday.

The Cummings house corner Main and Whitman street is being painted.

Mrs. Geo. H. Perry is up from Bath visiting friends here for a short time.

Dr. W. S. Drake has put a fine white row-boat into Pennessewassee lake, this season.

Mrs. Edwin S. Cummings returned, Saturday, from a two weeks visit in Rumford.

W. L. Scribner and Mrs. Almada Hanson of Springfield are at Dr. B. F. Bradbury's.

Rev. R. C. Flagg, D. D., of the Berlin Mills Congregational church, was in town, Tuesday.

Dr. Albert Thompson and Mrs. Thompson came, last week, and are at their summer island home on Lake Pennessewassee.

Mrs. Elsie Titcomb of Rumford Falls and Mrs. Harry are visiting friends in Norway and South Paris.

The record grows longer. G. A. Cole out the grass on his field above the boat house, last week, and got it wet, just the same as every season for 32 years.

Potatoes, peas and beans have grown well, notwithstanding the cold and wet. A few of our most forward gardeners have had green peas, and others may be the fourth.

The service at the Universalist church, Sunday evening, will be an informal talk to the young people, by Rev. C. E. Angell, a service which was postponed from last week.

Vincent Mountfort is clerking at the Smiley Shoe Store. He is regularly employed by the A. H. Berry Shoe Company of Portland, and is an accomplished and accommodating clerk.

Hon. E. F. Smith and Mrs. Smith took a little trip to Squirrel Island and to New Meadow Inn, where they partook of a shore dinner. Mr. S. says it was "all right."

The Norway W. C. T. U. have invited the South Paris Union to visit them at their next regular meeting which will be held Wednesday evening, July 9, at the home of Mrs. C. N. Tubbs. Refreshments will be served.

The members of Pine Tree Colony, W. O. P. F., will celebrate the fourth with a picnic at Electric Park. An invitation has been extended to the ladies of the Veranda Club and their friends and doubtless there will be a goodly gathering and a most pleasant time will be enjoyed.

JULY 4, 1902, NORWAY AND SOUTH PARIS, MAINE.

A Quiet Time.

In response to an invitation from a member of the Quiet whist club there was a quiet gathering of the members of that organization on the shores of Lake Pennessewassee during the afternoon and evening of June 25, which proved to be one of the few rare June days of this peculiar season. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent about the grounds and on the porch of the pleasant cottage of the hostess, Mrs. M. W. Sampson, and in the edge of the evening, when all the guests had assembled a most bountiful supper was served and the appetites of all proved equal to the occasion, the final course consisting of a few choice and brilliant toasts which proved so overwhelming as to send some of the quieter substitutes under the table.

Next in order was a quiet game of Ping Pong for the benefit of those who had been, not wisely but too much, and were in need of a little exercise before sitting down to the quiet game of whist, for old times' sake others preferred the still more quiet exercise of the birds' nest parade, which formed a prominent feature of this quiet evening.

When all had distinguished themselves at whist, under strictly scientific rules, the pros and cons of ice cream and wafers were discussed at some length and the argument became so fiery that it was finally considered necessary to serve both. When all had done justice to this unique and delightful mixture, and a slight accident which befell a wayward member about this time had been attended to, the time-piece reminded them that this evening like all made their way to the wharf where the considerate captain had been patiently waiting some time.

Three quiet cheers were given for the hostess as the steamer bore them quietly away toward the village, and I hear from reliable authority that the captain pronounced it the quietest trip of the season. The club considers it the very best time it ever had in its life.

Children's Day Services.

Sunday was children's day at the Congregational church. There were plants and wild flowers arranged at the front of the platform and covered the reading desk. The younger scholars were seated in classes in the middle seats at the front with their teachers. The quartet sang, Pastor B. S. Rideout's talk, by illustrated by blackboard drawings of the contents of the bad heart and the good heart, and through the eye and the ear the lesson was brought home of the need of a good, a clean, a pure heart.

In the evening the church was well filled. Twenty-four children marched in singing a processional hymn and took seats upon the platform. The closest attention of the audience was paid to the following program:

Voluntary.....Jennie Gayton
The Boy's Town.....Eddie Chitt
With the Children.....Mrs. F. A. Fares
Girls For You and Me.....Chorus
Keep to the Right.....Chorus
A Secret.....Edith Rideout

The Doctors Meet.

Oxford County Medical Association met at the Alpine House, Gorham, June 30. The ladies were with them, and sociability was the order of the day. The meeting was held in the dining hall, and potted plants and a sumptuous banquet was served. Excellent music was provided. A paper was read upon the history of Medicine which was very interesting, then informal speeches were made by several present. Officers elected:

Pres.-Dr. B. F. Bradbury, Norway.
1st Vice-Pres.-Dr. J. D. Holt, Berlin.
2nd Vice-Pres.-Dr. J. D. Holt, Berlin.
Sec. and Treas.-Dr. H. L. Bartlett, Norway.

Mrs. Alma P. Hayden and daughter are visiting relatives here.

Harry and Roy Holden are spending the Fourth at Kennebunk.

Merritt Welch of Sanford and family are visiting at Geo. I. Cummings'.

Steamer Pennessewassee will run every two hours through the day, July 4.

Road commissioner Charles E. Freeman has a crew of men at work on the lake road.

Harry Bickford who is a student at the University of Vermont, is in town for a few days.

Harry Gibson and family are spending the remainder of the week at Frank Danforth's cottage by the Lake.

Hugh Pendexter, wife and child, F. F. Farnum and Miss Davy are visiting at F. W. Farnum for a couple weeks.

Mrs. Annie Bicknell and Mrs. Minnie Wilcox of Brockton, Mass., are visiting at Mrs. Charles Knight's for a week.

E. C. Thompson and Frank W. Lovejoy spent Tuesday fishing in Bethel, what is known as Academy Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Parker went to Boston, last week, to spend a few days before returning to their home in Springfield.

Mrs. W. G. Quint will preach in G. R. Hall, Sunday, at 2 o'clock. Everybody is welcome to this service. She is a preacher of rare ability.

The ladies of the Congregational circle are requested to meet at the church, Saturday, July 5th, at 3 p. m. All attendance is desired.

Dr. and Mrs. F. N. Barker, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Bartlett, Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Bradbury, went to Gorham, N. H., Monday, to the County Doctors' Association meeting.

Elaine Tobin is visiting her mother, Mrs. John Tobin, at the Best's Hotel. Mrs. Tobin is to leave the house and with both children will go to Bryant's Pond for a while.

All Day Meeting.

Norway grange entertained about a dozen members of Round Mountain grange of Albany, Saturday. About 125 were at dinner, which was attractively served and bountiful in amount. The "B's" and "C's" supplied it. There was a good sized meeting in the afternoon. Question was debated of what are the most troublesome weeds and how to get rid of them. Keeping everlastingly at it was the most practical suggestion.

State Lecturer W. J. Thompson of South China spoke for a time upon the address of ex-congressman T. B. Reed at Bowdoin centennial. General theme selfishness as against breadth of regard and vision, and was a plea for broadening out and deepening of life. He is a very interesting and easy speaker, not a shouter but one very distinct and clear. His points were well made and much welcomed.

No Rural Delivery, July 4.

Orders from the Postmaster General are that no delivery by rural letter carrier is to be made, Independence day. This is so that the carriers may observe the national holiday. At the Norway office mail will be delivered to rural patrons if called for at the office during opening hours.

The office will be open, Friday, the regular holiday hours: 8.30 to 11.00 a. m. and 2.30 to 5.00 p. m. Holders of lock boxes can have access to them as on other days.

Telephone Meeting.

A meeting is called of the Oxford County Telephone Company at West Summer, Thursday, July 10, at 1 p. m. Manager N. S. Bird of Rockland will be present and explain the future relations between the Oxford Eastern and New England Telephone Companies. It is expected and hoped that a large number of stockholders and representatives of the independent companies will be present.

Mrs. Mary Stevens is very sick.

W. Thomas McCormack has returned to Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. John Abbott has been sick a few days with neuralgia.

Mrs. M. F. Morrill of Amesbury, Mass., is a guest at Rev. E. S. Cotton's.

The Norway Center Sunday school have a picnic in Gibson's Grove, July 4.

Miss Delano, who has been at work in the Fines, has gone on a vacation of several weeks.

Llewellyn Cummings is still improving. He was up town, Wednesday morning, the first for a long time.

A party of five couples are at Mrs. Swan's cottage by the lake. They are charmed by Will Kenney and wife.

Charles Knight and wife and daughter Beryl were called to Bethel, Saturday, by the illness of Mrs. Knight's father.

Edward Cotton came home from Colby, last week. He went to Lancaster, N. H., the next day, where he will work for the summer.

Rev. B. F. Fickett has gone to Bowdoinham, and expects to be gone over two days. The pulpit will be supplied, however, each Sabbath.

The "Actor's Holiday." Thursday night, was not largely attended. It was a very fair sort of show, with some excellent features which were appreciated.

Between twenty and twenty-five members of Lake Assembly, Pythian Sisterhood visited Evergreen Assembly at Bryant's Pond, Monday night. A number from Glen Ellis Assembly of Andover were present. The degree team of Lake Assembly exemplified the work in the second degree.

Monday, W. E. Ring of Greenwood got in a note that he had won a horse. Tuesday, John M. Cummings came in, saying he had lost one. It was the same horse, and John went after it. If you find anything valuable, advertise it in our want column. If you want anything, let our readers know it. Publicity is success, as a rule, in all good matters.

William H. Knowland has finished work for the Radcliffe Shoe Co., and goes to South Freeport, Saturday, to spend the summer. Mr. Knowland has been employed in the factories here for over fourteen years, and has not had a vacation for seven. It is hoped we shall not lose him permanently from our town, as he has a host of friends who value him for his earnestness, faithfulness and goodness.

Service next Sunday morning at the Baptist church will be appropriate to the communion which is observed at that time. In the evening one of the courses of action words "Baptism" is suggested, and also a brief story of the hymn "America," and the life of Dr. Samuel F. Smith. A tablet has been set in the middle of the brick walk, bearing the words "Baptism" and "Revolution of the edifice has progressed to painting which was begun, this week."

Norway Universalists are planning to be well represented at the National Convention of Y. P. C. O. Unions in Portland, next week. Delegates from the senior society are: Mrs. F. A. Danforth, S. B. Cummings, Mrs. F. H. Beck, Alternates-Stella B. Prince, Elsie Favor, C. F. Ridlon. Rev. E. Angell will attend, also Charlotte Young and Della Noyes and others. A dozen or more Juniors will go, including Ruth Cummings, Gladys Buck, Annie Danforth, Sarah Danforth, Hattie Merrill, Jennie Hann, Alice Schenck, Susie Walker, Bertha Chaney and Clara Hathaway.

Norway Municipal Court.

Alex Powers of North Woodstock, drank a little too much Moxie and Jamaica Ginger "split," and was before his Honor, Wednesday, July 3d, and costs. Paid part of fine and officers went with him to try to raise the rest.

Mrs. Alvah Brown, wife of the assistant postmaster, died at her home in Bridgton, Sunday morning June 29. She had been ill about four days, and was thought to be out of danger, Saturday night, but grew worse and died about 4 in the afternoon. She was very popular in the community and was prominent in the works of the Congregational church. She leaves a husband but no children.

Alden E. Day of West Paris has a farm to sell, 1 1/2 miles from village, 180 acres, hardwood and spruce, good convenient buildings. A good trade for some one.

SOUTH PARIS.

Prohibition Rally.

The Prohibitionists are to have a rally after the convention of Saturday, July 5. The exercises will begin at 7 p. m. Music by the Ladies quartet. A. Ladd of Brunswick will be present and it is expected that James Fennig of Portland, present nominee for governor, will attend.

But the great speaker will be Fred E. Britten of Detroit, Michigan, apostle of Prohibition. He is a man about 42 years of age, a graduate of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. He was pastor of a Baptist church in Fairbault, Mich., and in 1886 accepted the chair of Psychology and Ethics in Central University and has been pastor or acting of some of the strong Baptist churches of Nebraska and Michigan.

He is a thorough student of politics, a clear and logical thinker, the author of valuable lectures upon Political Economy and International Law and has been active in the councils of the Prohibition party. Has been a member national committee since 1896 and chairman of State committee for over two years. He will be well worth hearing by members of other parties besides his own.

Elliott Record is having his house repaired.

N. D. Bolster was in Portland Monday on business.

Henry Merrill was in Portland on business Monday.

Fred Scott and wife have gone to Auburn for a few days.

The Knights of Pythias work the third degree Friday night.

Mrs. W. W. Brown and son George from Cherryvale, Kan., are visiting at C. F. Brett's.

Frank Dodge and wife are at H. W. Davis' for a visit. They came from Reading, Mass.

Dr. Charles L. Buck has returned from his Aruostock trip and the dentist office is open again.

Mrs. Rose Powers has returned from Auburn where she has been employed for some time.

A. J. Stearns and wife of Norway were visiting her parents, W. J. Wheeler and wife last week.

Mrs. J. G. Littlefield has been spending a few days with relations by Pennessewassee lake.

Mrs. Susie Gooding has returned to Yarmouthville after a few days visit here last week.

Friend of W. J. Wheeler are petitioning the governor and council for his appointment as coroner.

H. W. Dean has returned from Rangeley and will remain here a short time before going to Massachusetts.

Percival Hathaway is home from Colby. He graduated this year and his mother attended the exercises.

Mrs. Warren Sweet of Dorchester, Mass., is here for the summer with her parents, Mr. Jacob Nichols and wife.

Mrs. Harriman of Bethel is at J. J. Morton's for the summer. Geo. Hargraves and wife were there on Sunday.

Schools in the King and Mountain districts closed Friday with a hayrack ride to the village. The scholars had a glorious time if appearances can be relied upon.

Rev. O. L. Stone of Norway held preaching service in the Biscoe school house, last Sunday afternoon. There was a goodly number present and a profitable service was rendered.

In preparing the notice of death of the late Peter Frost, published June 20, we were misinformed as to the number of children living. The two mentioned with whom he resided are the only ones now living.

The Mission Christian Endeavor Society of the Biscoe district will enjoy a basket picnic at Geo. W. Hammond's grove at Snow's Falls, July 4th. A suitable program will be arranged for the occasion. All are invited.

A flag raising was held at the Webber schoolhouse Friday with appropriate exercises. The flag is 10x6 and a beauty. A picnic dinner with baked beans and pastry was enjoyed. The term of school just closed is a success in every way.

Rev. Dr. Brooks, Mrs. T. S. Barnes, Eva Walker, Mertie B. Maxim, Susie E. Walker, Iva Haggett and George Clifford went to East Sumner to the Christian Endeavor local Union. When they got there they found they were not expected on account of the weather but the good East Sumner people hustled around and made them comfortable and more than welcome. A delegation from Bethel was also present.

THE PRESIDENT

Of the City Council Wilkesbarre, Pa., Cured of Rheumatism.

Col. Wm. J. Harvey, a president of Wilkesbarre's city council, who will long be remembered for his great work for the city, was once a mere physical wreck, torn in every muscle and nerve from the frightful pains caused by rheumatism. He consulted the best physicians, went abroad, took mud baths, and almost every known treatment for the disease. One of the city officials had had a very similar experience and Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy had cured him, so he recommended this great kidney medicine to his friend, and Col. Harvey is today a well man, hale and hearty. In his own abrupt way he states his case:

DR. DAVID KENNEDY, Dear Sir:—This is to certify that I was permanently cured of rheumatism by the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

WM. J. HARVEY. Nothing could be more direct or more to the point than this simple statement.

Rheumatism is but another name for uric acid poisoning which is caused primarily by diseased kidneys. Cure your kidneys and the rheumatism disappears. For all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, as well as sickness peculiar to women, Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is unquestionably the greatest medicine known to the medical profession.

All druggists sell Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy in the New 50 Cent bottle and the regular $1.00 size bottles. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail.

On a Time.

On a time I dreamed that I was dead, Attended my own funeral "in-joke" And heard the sermon preached. The good things said.

World build a most imposing catalog. Ascribed, as with a true word, More qualities of worth than I can name— I cannot tell you half the things I heard— And not a hint of censure or of blame.

"When I awoke I wept aloud and cried To find it but a dream that I had died. That weary life awaited me the same, That I must struggle on with blinded eyes, Misunderstood and judged and criticized.

On a time I dreamed that I was wise, (You know there's no accounting for our dreams) And all my ways were perfect in the eyes

The world turned with approval on my schemes, And every blessed thing I did or planned Succeeded well—'till, 'twas in my sleep— Success lay in the hollow of my hand.

No little things to make me weep. And things took shape, eye, even as I planned, I had no errors to be rectified, No dreary hours of useless waiting.

Chimera changed to facts at my command. Then I awoke and cried with streaming eyes: "I am a fool to dream of being wise."

On a time I dreamed—that time awake— That which could be forgiven, become as naught, Thus made an irretrievable mistake.

The most perilous dream of all the lot. For wifely wrong disfigures us always, And wretchedness lingers all the world to-day Of lives left broken, blighted, desolate.

Ambition drives us on, gone astray, Nor travels, as they planned to do in youth. The straight and narrow path of simple truth And saintly lives are lost to us to-day.

That was the vainest dream I ever knew, And I, being wide awake, believed it true!

CHARLES W. GREENE, MANITOBA, O'ER THE GREAT PLAINS IN MARYLOUS

The yellow grain glows in the bright sunshine. The yellow grain glows in the bright sunshine.

Yer clear binders rattle lively music. In the sunny August days of harvest time.

The excursion claps from down around Ontario 'sweat' of their brows among the boats.

While the farmers' eyes run all to the steaming blazes. In the streams they see a million white-robed spooks.

Now good bye, O gentle breeze of Manitoba; I'm goin' ter leave ye, for I do not love ye; No more among my whiskers shall ye play.

I'm goin' back to dearest old New England, And the mountains break on the backbones of the wind.

And the sun kin eat their will in solid comfort. And I'll leave ye, chillin' Zephyr, far behind.

Among the wheat upon my chin you've held wild revel, And the wheat chaff from my hair you've blown away.

Monks the moss upon my back you've played the devil. With the seed of Manitoba medder hay.

O, I've stood before the carrier of yon thrasher While ye blew the wheat chaff in my tender eyes.

And mid me weep hot tears in my repentance; I'm goin' ter leave ye, for I do not love ye; No more among my whiskers shall ye play.

As I stood upon the peak of yonder stack And I pitched the shovels onto the shoveler's table.

While ye blew Alaskan icebergs up my back. I think that back in Maine along o' Hannant I kin git along as well as I kin here.

And under the old star spangled banner I'll try and spend my life as a free man here.

So ye kin jest blow your gold darndest in the future. I will not be monkeyin' here among yer spools.

I'll be happy and contented with ma Hannah. I'm goin' ter leave ye, for I do not love ye; No more among my whiskers shall ye play.

So good bye, O gentle breeze of Manitoba; I'm goin' ter leave ye, for I do not love ye; No more among my whiskers shall ye play.

Sydney, Manitoba. CHARLES DAVIS. Oct. 5, 1899.

Birds and Their Homes.

Can anyone account for the greater number of birds this season and for their unusual friendliness? Their songs fill the air with sweet music and their dainty little homes are seen nestling in the shrubbery and hung high in the tree tops on every hand.

Near my window is an oriole's nest swaying from the topmost branches of an elm, and a few feet from the door a robin's "house" is safely tucked away in the dense foliage of a maple. 'Tis but a few steps to the old apple tree by the stone wall where the way little blue bird has hidden its nest deep down in a knot hole. The entrance seems hardly larger than one's thumb, yet the devoted parents peep in and out many times a day with food for their young.

We have never seen, but whose hungry chirps are distinctly heard.

Inside the well house, neatly tucked away between rafter and plate, rests a phoebe's or parula's nest, now containing three hungry little ones. A few rods from the barn, in the cornfield, was a sparrow's nest but so poorly protected that the ravenous crows destroyed the little ones as soon as hatched.

The swallow's nest, of dried mud, was everywhere about the barns and I have seen several nests whose occupants I am unacquainted with.

The orioles have brought me much pleasure, in that the persistence of the little fellows, I should not have had the privilege of their company. When they began to build a pair of thieves (which I could not name) worked constantly to carry away the material they had gathered. Finally, after months of housekeeping has been a source of constant pleasure and surprise to me.

Madam Oriole is very modest, yet unlike the robin she is neither shy or acquiescent in her own nest, but she brooded in peace and quietude, and her housekeeping has been a source of constant pleasure and surprise to me.

There are times when "atill like a blossom among the leaves, he neither sings to the world, nor she to her nest," but they have the most beautiful half hour chats—loving confidential little language of perfect contentment.

I have listened to their love-making and the sacred little home secrets, I hope I am pardoned, and I think I am, for I will never divulge the facts I learned, and their pretty teachings have been helpful.

The Season's New Dances.

There has not been a Newport season for years when so much attention has been paid to dancing as at the present.

I suppose, says the Newport correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, it is because dancing has been having so much attention in London the last season, for there was a general revival of dances at the smart balls in Mayfair, and the waltz, so long the only dance tolerated by the swells, was set aside for more elaborate forms of dancing, and the English ladies even went so far as to take lessons of a French master.

The minuet and the gavot were among the forms most favored and an entirely new combination of a Scotch character called the "Tahiti" schottish, and still another is called "the Albany," the first being round and the latter a square dance.

These two dances are now all the rage in Newport ballrooms, and everybody has gone suddenly dancing mad, learning the steps and dancing the two new forms to death.

"The Albany" is decidedly dashing and lively and promises to become a universally popular dance, which will establish itself as firmly as the waltz, waltzes, chassés, Berlin, grand chain, polka, to partners, hands across, etc., in four figures. But it is to be danced in four figures without an interval.

Every ball now ends up the first half before supper with the Virginia reel or Sir Roger de Coverley. And such a furiously gay dance the swells make of it! They tear about and make it almost a rough and tumble, and before it is ended somebody is in a roar of laughter, and some grotesque mishap is always sure to take place before the dance is finished.

Compliments Always Dear.

Age may bring wrinkles and snowy hair, but it never burns out the love of compliments and pretty speeches in the heart of a woman. If men would only remember that women grow beautiful and sweet of character when told that they are beautiful and sweet of character, the world wouldn't think half the shrews and fretters and scolds who keep things stirred up as if with a soup ladle. I know a woman who must be 60 years old if she's a day, but is a pretty compliment lost on her?

Not at all. She has been living on them all her life, and for that very reason will be young and fresh when another woman would be faded and old. She inspires sweet thoughts by her manners and charming, interesting mentality. Just the other night she was sitting in a box at a theater, sharing an evening's enjoyment with several other playgoers, when a young man appeared on the stage and claimed her attention.

"I saw that man's father play with Charlotte, Cushman 30 years ago," she remarked to a man who sat behind her.

"You must have been brought in on a pillow," he answered.

Now, why in the world don't men cultivate cleverness like that?

Not one in 40 would have had the tact and quickness to have made that reply. I can't prove that statement, of course, but I'd bet a good deal on it if I could, just the same.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Rocking Beautiful Women.

The rocking chair, according to an English scientist over here for the purpose of writing a book on travels, deserves even a higher place in American esteem than it now holds, for it is responsible, this eagle eyed observer of the American woman, the beauty of her lower limbs. "If you will think," he said at a dinner party the other night at Atlantic City, "if you will think of the exercise one gets on a rocking chair, you will see that I am right. How many times, on these broad, wind blown piazzas, does a young woman rock herself in her chair in the course of a morning? I fancy it would take a calculating barber to tell you that. At any rate, the exercise she gets is excellent and ample. That push which the toes give to keep the chair in motion, repeated and repeated, makes the feet misshapen flesh off the ankle, keeping the ankle delicate and slender. Such delicate ankles under such robust calves made me fear, when I first came down and saw your women in their bathing dresses, that the pneumatic stocking, so popular in my own land, had got a foothold here. I am convinced now that it is not so."—Philadelphia Record.

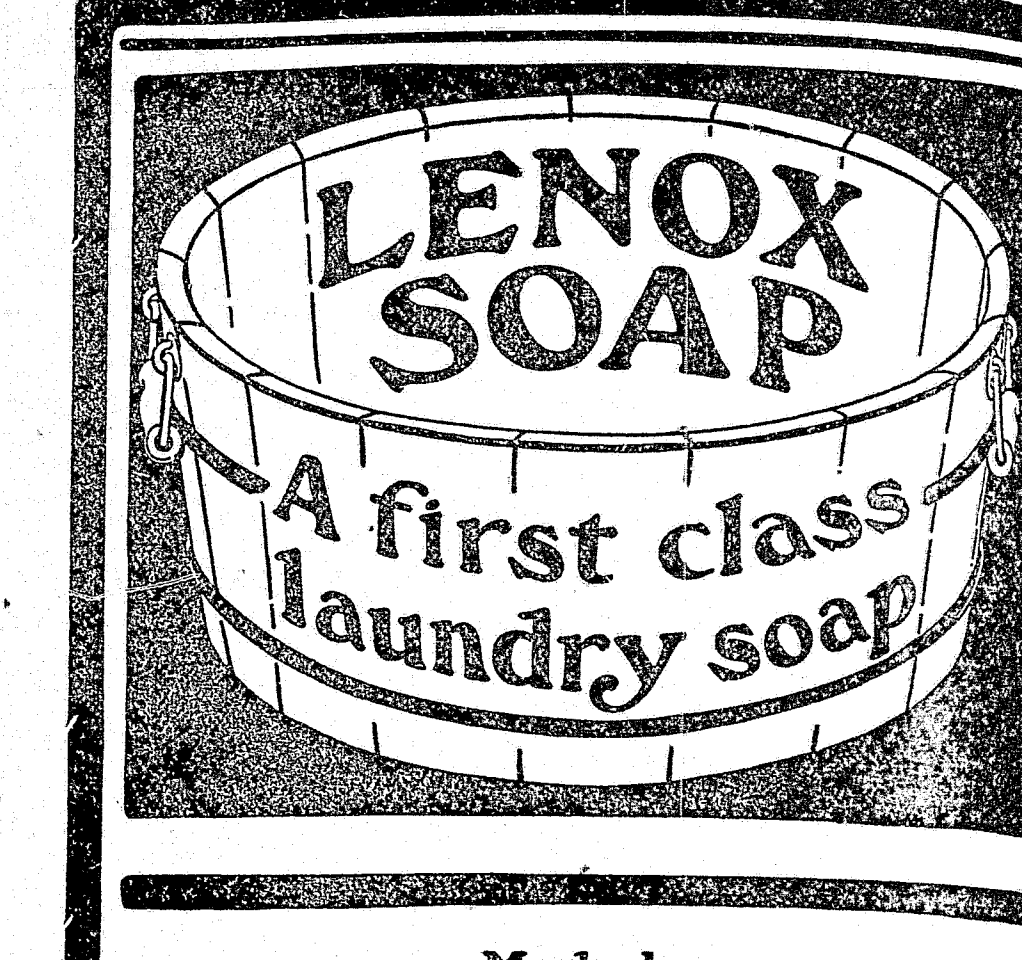

Man's Exclusive Privilege.

"I learned such a delightful trick for traveling when you are going away for a few days or overnight and do not care to take any more baggage than necessary," said the girl. "Of course I learned it from a man. Men seem to be particularly ingenious about finding ways of traveling with only trifling inconvenience. You men have collars if you have nothing else, and you can carry them and keep them in perfect condition if you put them inside the sweatband of your hat. Isn't that a delightful idea?"

"Well, I thought so, and put my collars in my hat and put the hat on my head, all the time fairly chuckling to myself to think of this nice little bit of manly cleverness I was adopting. My hat fitted all right—a woman can screw her hair around into any shape—and I started to put it in my hatbox. But they did not go in very easily. Suddenly it occurred to me that I was trying to impale my stock of clean collars, almost a week's laundry. I stopped short and remembered that that men don't wear hats. There is no use; you always get cheated if you try to do things as men do. If women are going to do clever things, they have simply got to invent them themselves."—New York Times.

Charlotte Perkins Stetson in Ainslee's for September, "two for school, primary and secondary, and universities, modern educational experiments, technical education, women as educators and coeducators each had one.

"The American contribution to this section was strongest in the more progressive lines, child study, primary education, experiments and coeducation. In this last a most satisfying and conclusive paper was given by Dean Louise Brownell of Cornell university, showing a full and practical acquaintance with the subject and the easy power of one describing not hopes nor theories, but well proved facts. The drift of all these educational meetings was most hopeful, showing a keen interest in progressive measures and warm approval of our best attainments on these lines.

Other speakers from the United States were Mrs. Maria Purdy Peck, Mrs. Stanton-Batch, Mrs. Annie Jennings Miller, Mrs. Felix Adler, Miss Sadie American and Professor Earl Barnes of Stanford university."

Time to Plant Bulbs.

"This is the season of the year in which to set out bulbs. Prepare the ground for them before they are received by having it dug up to a depth of at least a foot—a foot and a half is better—and worked over until it is mellow," writes Eben E. Rexford in the September Ladies' Home Journal.

"Mix with it a liberal quantity of old, rotten manure from the cowyard, or, if this is not obtainable, use bone meal in the proportions of one pound to a square yard of soil. If the soil is naturally heavy, it is well to add considerable sand to make it lighter and more porous. Plant the bulbs as soon as possible after they are received, as they are greatly injured by exposure to the air. Set tulips and hyacinths six inches deep, smaller bulbs from four to five inches. All bulbs should be placed five or six inches apart and each kind kept by itself."

An Outgrown Ideal.

There have been some salutary changes during the long reign of Queen Victoria, one of which is casually treated by a London Journal. Remark that fainting was quite the fashion among women when her majesty came to the British throne, it says: "It was proper for an engaged young lady to swoon away if she received a letter containing the news of her lover having sprained his leg. The queen was thought too insensible because her voice did not falter when she announced to the house of commons her engagement to Prince Albert. Consumptive heroines were best liked by novel readers. Girls took a pride in being in poor health. They used to talk of their ailments as they now talk of the bike and golf."

The pierced cloth is seen in capes, and the long stole ends which have been seen in different forms are to be found on the most dressy mantles. Lace bows are at the necks of rich capes with ends falling to the knees, and on more severe garments double faced satin ribbon is used.

Miss Mary B. Scranton of New Haven is erecting a public library building in Madison, Wis., as a memorial to her father, Erasmus C. Scranton, for many years a banker in New Haven and at one time president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad.

To clean sponges thoroughly, dissolve a handful of coarse salt in a pint of water. Soak and knead the sponges in this mixture for some little time, then rinse under a water faucet, and they will be as good as new.

A Leader in Politics.

Since political parties must have leaders, happy is the party that has such a leader as Annie Diggs! Her power is her absolute sincerity and unselfish devotion to principles. Whether these principles are right or wrong, they are her principles and those of her party. Like John Breckinridge, Mrs. Diggs is an extreme socialist. She had a plan to organize the women into commonwealth clubs and to prepare the rising generation of Kansas for the adoption of socialist principles. The Kansas women organized all other kinds of Diggs kind. Nevertheless Mrs. Diggs continues to talk socialism and to express confidence that it is coming.—Woman's Journal.

Summer, Past and Present.

Through the politeness of Horace Murch who had a job at near Black Mountain, I had the sad pleasure of tracing the names of former acquaintances on monuments erected to their memories.

Those with whom I was very familiar twenty-five years ago, have nearly all passed away but those who have followed have made commendable improvements. Fred Bonney's store, postoffice and surroundings are greatly improved, showing unmistakable signs of thrift. D. R. Cole and Wm. Abbott have also made improvements on their surroundings.

The schoolhouse has been transformed into a chapel and a new schoolhouse erected on a pleasant site, with fine grounds, all of which reflects great credit upon the citizens of that community. I had the pleasure of meeting Harrison Bonney who is well preserved at 87 years of age.

Of three other old timers in this vicinity, E. P. Sturtevant, E. M. Parlin and Edmund Bowker are in poor health.

WOODSTOCK.

Chase District.

Sheep shearing is the business of the day.

Field strawberries have been very scarce in most places.

Eloise Tobin has been visiting at Mrs. Frank Small's at West Paris.

G. N. Felt has bought him a new horse of George Tuttle of Rumford.

B. Y. York has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Ronello C. Davis.

Dogs have killed eight sheep for Geo. Willson in the east part of this town; also some for Sarah Proctor.

Mrs. Stella Bowker Bacon spent a week in Portland visiting her sister, Myrtle A. Bacon, who was visiting there.

Mr. and Mrs. Kilborn Parham went to Norway, Sunday, June 22, to see their sister, Mrs. Viana Churhill. They came home, Monday night.

G. L. Cushman and family with D. O. Dudley and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Bacon spent a part of Saturday and Sunday at Lakewood Cottage in Greenwood.

George S. Whitman lost his horse, a short time ago. He was driving on the road when the horse was taken sick. He took him into a barn near by but he died in a few hours.

Don't think that eruption of yours can't be cured. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla—its virtue is its power to cure.

NORTH WATERFORD.

Alice Stone is working for Mrs. Ernest Nason.

Lizzie Farmer is at work for Edna Browne.

Fred Mosher is putting up a stable. Geo. Farmer is the carpenter.

Bertha Browne is quite sick at Harry Browne's. A physician attended her.

Mrs. Alice Tuttle of Lewiston, sister of James Brown, is visiting him for a short time.

Charles Saunders and Charles Fields are hauling shuck to Harrison for Saunders Brothers.

George B. Rice has been at Grover Hill, Bethel, on business and took dinner at Levi Bartlett's.

Bessie Hamlin has arrived home from Chelsea, Mass., to her parental home for her summer vacation.

Eliza Farmer is better, so she has visited her nephew, Ed Farmer; also called on friends in the village.

James Browne was in Lewiston, recently, and he brought home to his children a graphophone. It is a nice one and can be heard quite a distance.

B. W. Rice and Eddie Murray of Gil-ead drove down with Mr. Rice's household goods. Mr. Rice and family came, the first of July, to live at his father's.

WATERFORD.

Gay Dudley and Annie Kimball graduated from Bridgton Academy.

Elbridge Stone attended the centennial at Baldwin, his native town.

Miss Glidden of Woodstock has been visiting her friend, Agnes Plummer.

Mamie Rounds and Ida Abbott are home from their schools for vacation.

The young men have organized a baseball nine with John Mason for captain. Percy Hogan of New York is visiting his daughter Kathleen at Mrs. Atherton's.

Carrie H. Knight, who was taken very violently ill with acute indigestion, is better.

Quite a lot of summer boarders have come into the place, some at Mrs. Atherton's and a lot at the Lake House.

Hon. A. P. Gordon and wife of Fryeburg visited at L. F. Jewett's, last week, and took in the meeting of Kooka Chapter, O. E. S., of which they are members.

Dr. Libby and wife have gone to their new home at South Gardiner. May prosperity attend them. Dr. Coburn of Portland is here to look after the sick in the future.

Ralph Haskell is home from Springfield, Mass., on his vacation.

Alice Clark and Alice Weston Wilbur have been on a week's Hampshire.

Frank Atkinson and wife from Roslin, Ind., who have bought a summer cottage at Harrison village, are visiting at Frank Stevens'.

Stephen Caswell of Wakefield, Mass., has been staying a few days with his brother at the old home. His many friends in Waterford, his former home, will be glad to welcome him back. He did not pass a night at his old home for nearly 30 years, it being closed to strangers there for most of that time.

ANDOVER.

Rev. J. A. Waterworth occupied the Congregational pulpit on Sunday, June 29. He has returned home from his outing at Howard's pond, refreshed and invigorated as with new wine.

There was a concert, Monday, June 30, at the town hall under the direction of Prof. Wm. R. Chapman. The following talent appeared: Hans Kronold, violinist; Margaret Fry, soprano, from Paris; Francis Archambault, baritone; this is one of the finest concert parties Chapman has ever given.

BUCKFIELD.

Measles are going the rounds.
 Ellis Whitman of this town has lately sold a yoke of oxen for $260.
 Mrs. Ella U. Emery of Boston is the guest of her brother, N. E. Morrill.
 Mrs. Wallace Tuttle and Freeland Dunham are reported not as well of late.
 The friends of Lizzie Whittington will be pleased to learn that she has returned from the hospital without requiring treatment.
 Shirlie Hall is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Hall. Her father is very poorly. She teaches at Barre, Vt.

Dr. Heald and wife are entertaining Mrs. Heald's father and brother, J. H. Carey and Master Winchester of Salem, Mass. Mr. Carey has an eye to the pleasures of camp life at North pond.
 At the school grounds the amateurs of Buckfield and Hartford were pitted against each other in a ball game with the result of 32 to 6 in favor of the Buckfields. In the afternoon at the White track the Hartfords against the Leavitts of Turner resulted in a score of 13 to 2 in favor of Hartford.

We are having strawberries from this season's setting in very good quantities. It is no great thing to raise them if one goes at it right. But vegetation is slow. Corn is small. Peas are slow to fill. Potatoes and beans are looking well. Fourth of July is near and we have no toy pistol, and Monday the old canon with which the Fourth of July was wont to be ushered until it was spiked, years ago, before which it was a terror to mothers, and a source of wrath to sound sleepers, was sold for old junk at 25 cents per hundred pounds. How are the mighty fallen!

NORTH WATERFORD.

Mrs. Matilda Mosher scalded her foot quite badly a short time ago.
 John Flint and son of North Fryeburg called on Dr. Coolidge Sunday.
 Mrs. E. B. York and Mrs. Bell Jones spent the afternoon with Mrs. Hattie Rice last week Wednesday.

Edith Knight, a trained nurse from Lewiston Hospital, is at home in Bisbee town on a two weeks' vacation.
 Mrs. Barrett, a teacher from the colored school, Atlanta, Ga., is at G. M. Knight's, Bisbee town, for the summer.
 Annie Allen went to the church last Monday and took a picture of the decorations that were prettily decorated for Children's day.

Lena Bisbee is home from Gorham High school on her summer vacation. Her cousin, Raymond Knight from Gould academy also came with her.
 Three young ladies are to unite with the Congregational church at the communion next Sabbath, by profession of faith. They are Mrs. Helen Saunders, Mrs. Bertha Saunders and Bessie Hamlin.

A Dr. from Norway was called last Saturday to see Bertha Brown who is very ill. Dr. Oaks and a trained nurse from Lewiston were also summoned, and Miss Brown was removed to the Lewiston hospital on Tuesday.
 Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Doughty of Harrison called on neighbors and friends last Friday and Saturday, stopping all night with Mrs. Hattie Saunders. Mr. Doughty was formerly superintendent of the cornish here but is now at Conway. N. H., overseer of a shop.

NORTH FRYEBURG.

Anne Hutchins has a wheel.
 D. W. Carlton is at Fryeburg, this week, doing his haying.
 Clara Eastman of Chatham is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Clara Hastings.
 Rachel Chase of Chatham is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Frank Knox.
 Mrs. E. S. Hutchins and Mrs. L. O. Giles were in Portland, Monday.

The Gladys Rogers of New Auburn is spending a few weeks with May Hastings.
 May Cousins and Mollie Gordon of Fryeburg were the guests of May Hastings, Friday.
 Chas. Kilgore, wife and daughter of Whitefield, N. H., who have been visiting his sister, Mrs. L. O. Giles and family left, Monday, for Cornish.

The Red Men gave a dinner and supper at their hall, the 4th, and all those wishing to get their money's worth will do well to patronize them. Dancing afternoon and evening. Robinson's Orchestra. All kinds of races. Come early and see the horrible horrors.

The Red Men attended church in a body, last Sunday, and listened to a very interesting sermon by Rev. H. H. Hoyt. They presented a fine appearance and we thought that such a large and increasing order must be capable of much good in the community.

FRYEBURG CENTER.

F. N. Frye still continues feeble.
 Hazen Walker attended the circus at Portland, the 25th.
 Josephine Day is in failing health and under the care of a physician.
 E. C. Buzzell is building an addition to his barn, J. V. Emerson carpenter.
 Mrs. Nellie Scraton and children of Lewiston are visiting at her father's, M. M. Smart's.
 Dr. Perry came up from Portland last week, and reports an extensive and lucrative practice there.

ALBANY.

A New Postmaster.
 Amos G. Bagley, postmaster for the past 12 years, having resigned and recommended Wallace E. Cummings for the position of postmaster, who on receiving his commission assumed the duties of the office, July 1st, the office going back into the late Dea. Lovejoy house, where it was kept from 1861 to 1890.

Dana Hall of Bethel was in town, Monday, looking after cows. He bought one of A. G. Bean.
 Mrs. C. L. Cole is visiting relatives and friends in Candia, N. H. She is accompanied by her grandson, Archie Bass.

May Gould, a student of Bates College, who has been visiting her uncle, D. A. Cummings, and other friends in town, has gone to Poland Spring, Maine to work as table girl, this summer.

The circle met, the 26th, with Mrs. Austin Hutchinson. About forty were present. A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all. Mr. Hutchinson has a nice farm and is considered one of the best farmers in town. He and his wife know how to entertain their friends, which they fully proved on this occasion.

Valley Road.
 Mrs. A. S. Cole is away among friends for an indefinite length of time.
 Mrs. A. E. K. Grover called on Mrs. Ellen R. Millett at North Waterford, the 30th.

Will Rand has returned from Fryeburg to work for Wellington Bird during haying.
 Wellington Bird of Bryant's Pond intends to begin cutting the hay on the Bird place, the first of July.

G. E. Grover went to Bethel, last Saturday, to supervise setting gravestones for his mother, Judith A., wife of the late John Grover 2d. He also had some extra lettering done on the stone at his father's grave. The family lot is in Grover Hill cemetery.

Mr. Grover called to see Mrs. M. B. Brown, mother of the late Mrs. C. W. Willey. She is very aged, being past eighty, and feels deeply the loss of her only daughter, who was caring so tenderly for her. Her grandson Charles and wife take the best of care of her; but she says, "I know it won't be but a little while, but I want to go home and be with my daughter." Her husband is well preserved and her understanding is in the doing of the day is remarkable. She is a great reader.

 Arthur Deering, who has been stopping with his uncle, D. O. G. Lowell, in Dorchester, Mass., and attending school, came home last week, to spend his vacation.

Ethel Hilton, who has been teaching in Charleston, S. C., came home, Saturday. Her father, Alfonso Hilton, went to Boston and accompanied her to their home here.

NORTHWEST NORWAY.

There was a dance June 28, at Mrs. Sarah York's, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Town led the march. Mrs. Town was presented with a lovely bouquet. There will be a dance next Saturday night, July 5th.

Scrofula

Few are entirely free from it.
 It may develop so slowly as to cause little if any disturbance during the whole period of childhood.
 It may then produce irregularity of the stomach and bowels, dyspepsia, catarrh, and marked tendency to consumption before manifesting itself in more cutaneous eruption or glandular swelling.
 It is best to be sure that you are quite free from it, and for its complete eradication you can rely on

Hood's Sarsaparilla

The best of all medicines for all humors.

DENMARK.

Bert Jordan has bought a nice pair of steers 4 years old.
 S. H. Smith has been quite sick the past week, but is better.
 Grass not as good as last year. Apples will not be as plenty as we thought they would.

Mrs. N. H. Robinson of Worcester, Mass., who is visiting her parents, the past week, and arranging her cottage.
 Thomas Flint and wife of Baldwin visited his sister, Mrs. C. B. Smith on the 28th. He is a veteran soldier of the Civil War.

Mr. Robinson's cottage, Fairview, will be ready for occupation, July 5, as the painter, N. S. Thomas, has the outside nearly done.

L. A. Ingalls is still very poorly.

A fine congregation at East Denmark listened to an interesting sermon by Rev. C. C. Whidden. E. R. Staples of Bridgton also came with the minister and took part in the social service following the sermon.

Mrs. Hattie Witham has put her organ back into usual shape and Harry Thomas volunteers to play it; and last night we had a goodly number in the choir, led by Alfonso Hilton, which gave us fine music.

EAST WATERFORD.

Grass is stout and heavy in most fields.
 Crops are very backward, many are not high enough to be hoed.
 Big wages are offered to first class help, provided they make all fair weather.

Blackberries are promising well. Mark Taylor usual boasts the finest patch of bushes and the cleanest and most promising garden in town.
 The dove mill shuts down, July 3, till after haying and the help will scatter in various directions, but Joe will run the saw mill as usual as there is plenty of water and large quantity of long lumber to be sawed.

Considerable poplar pulpwood is being peeled and prepared for next winter's market. The large amount of hemlock furnished last season made a glut in the market and people should be cautious in offering that kind of lumber.

Road repairing is still going on in this town as well as Norway. We see Fred Knightly wending his way homeward with his team after a hard day's work. We owe much to the road machine especially where the roads are in such a condition as they were this spring.

Pride Bros. are removing their tumble down stone wall from the road here. Most of the stones are sunk in ditches, the remainder being dumped into the mill brook. We hope others make take pattern and thereby enhance the value and appearance of their otherwise beautiful fields.

Our school on closed Saturday of last week. An exhibition was held Friday afternoon attended by most of the ladies of the neighborhood, with an outing on MoWatt hill. This was Miss Jenne's fourth successive term. The attendance was large and the new and interesting features in Miss Jenne's manner of teaching was instructive, receiving the commendation of all.

Mark Tapley has recovered his usual health and jollity. Though still suffering some from rheumatism, he doesn't mind that but works every day in his gardens, among his fruit trees and shrubbery and busies himself about other duties. He declares this to be a most beautiful and jolly world for all who possess a jolly disposition, a great blessing which should be cultivated by industry, temperate habits in all things, and careful avoidance of that most disagreeable of all habits, dwelling upon, and whining about trivial matters unworthy of even a passing notice.

OTISFIELD.

Josie Nutting and Violet Mayberry went to Boston, Wednesday.
 Miss Meron, from Lewiston was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Davis from Saturday till Wednesday.

Mrs. J. E. Small and son Clifford are spending a week with Mrs. S's brother, F. O. Stone, at Turner village.
 Several persons from this town went to Lewiston, Thursday, (Circus day) but returned without seeing the regular show and some of them evidently in good spirits.

In the evening there will be a rally. The speaker, Fred E. Britten of Michigan, a noted college professor. Good music will be furnished.

NORWAY AND VICINITY
 Ina P. Furbush of Berlin, N. H., has been visiting Mrs. S. H. Wetherbee.

Henry O. Wilbur was over from Bolster's Mills last Friday on business.

It is a watch charm and not chain that Fred Davis is having made from petrified wood.

Mrs. Wm. A. Drake of Manchester-by-the-sea, Mass., opened their new cottage by lake Fennesseewassee last week.

Graduates from Colby College in this county—Percival Edward Hathaway, South Paris; Grace Bennett Bicknell, Norway.

Rev. E. S. Cotton was away a few days last week. He assisted, Wednesday, in the ceremony of marriage of his nephew, John F. Cotton, and Sussie E. Abbott in Waterboro.

May M. Bickford has decided to return to Farmington Normal School for two more courses of a year in each. This will fit her for teaching in any grade. She believes in doing a thing thoroughly if it is worth doing at all.

Camp What Cheer at the Birchies, Students Island, is now taken by Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Gardner and three sons, Chester Lawrence and Robert. Mr. Gardner is the general manager of the Oxford Paper Co., at Rumford Falls. Master Robert caught a 3-pound salmon on Friday.

There was an attendance of about 150 at G. A. R. hall, Thursday evening, to the Veranda Club supper. After the tables were cleared away, an orchestra, consisting of John Frank, violin; Fred H. Kelley, piano; and Dennis Pike, drum and bones, played several selections. A. E. Morse read some of Holman's Day's Yankee dialect pieces with suitable encores, and several recitations were given by the children. Dancing followed the entertainment.

Pawnee Bill's Great Combination Shows.
 A new and desirable era has been inaugurated by the fortuitous blending of these great combined shows. What the Pawnee Bill show is and what it has been for the past 16 years is so patent to everybody that it is like gilding refined gold and painting the lily to descend on its well-known superiority. Nothing then can be more meritorious and attractive than its limitless wealth of consolidated marvels; and as space is limited, we can therefore only give a brief outline. First we would call attention to Major Gordon W. Little (Pawnee Bill) the white chief of the Pawnees, and late hero of Oklahoma; with 100 genuine Indians, brave cowboys, noted scouts and trappers, including Gray Eagle 2d, chief of the Sioux Indians, and several of his tribe, including Red Cloud, Spotted Tail and several squaws and papposes; also bands of Mohave and Digger Indians; Astors from Mexico and Cliff Dwellers from Arizona. Special attention is called to Miss May Little, champion horseback rifle shot of the world; wonderful feats of horsemanship by Senor Jose Valasquez, riding and driving 35 flying horses at one time; a herd of buffaloes and wild Texas steers; thrilling hippodrome races by genuine Mexicans, including chariot races, hurdle races, standing races and all kinds of conical races. There will be detachments from foreign armies in splendid military reviews with a full battery of artillery, as well as the Lilliputian wild west for the children.

At Fair Grounds, Wednesday, July 9.

Norway Municipal Court.
 A session of the court was held Thursday afternoon. Horace Churchill had taken too freely the "juice" and was arrested for intoxication. A fine of $5.00 and costs, amounting to nearly $12.00, was imposed, which was paid by his friends.

A New Series of Stamps.
 News has been received that the new series of postage stamps will soon be in use. The special feature of this series is the new thirteen-cent stamp. This stamp will be an untold number, but Uncle Sam believes himself to be big enough to take the responsibility of issuing a stamp of that denomination. The new special delivery stamp will be strictly up to date. The messenger boy running for dear life whose picture appears on the old one will be relegated to the past and in his place will be the bicycle boy.

The picture of General Grant will adorn the four-cent stamp in the place of that of Lincoln, while the latter will step one notch and take the place of honor on the five-cent stamp. On the eight-cent stamp which will bear the likeness of Sherman, will be a picture of Martha Washington. The new thirteen-cent will have the picture of General Harrison. The head of Commodore Perry on the one-dollar stamp will be supplanted by the likeness of Farragut.

This week sees the end of the graduations. Farewell to the valedictorians for another year.

There were 260 excursionists went up from Portland and way stations over the Grand Trunk to Berlin, N. H., on Sunday, being the first excursion from that point for the season.

Let your wants be known to our readers. Costs one cent per word, 25 or more words.

Christian Endeavor Rally.

A meeting of those interested in Christian Endeavor work was held at the South Paris Congregational vestry, Friday evening. Rev. Charles D. Crane of Yarmouth, president of the Maine State Union, and Margaret Koon, who has been connected with the summer school for teachers, for some years, were present and spoke. They were engaged for the East Oxford local union meeting, Thursday, but understood it Friday and started that day. At Mechanic Falls they found the convention was over, so rather than turn back came on to South Paris, where a meeting was arranged as above.

Mrs. T. S. Barnes presided. Susie Wheeler sang sweetly a beautiful selection, "Shall I be forgotten?"

Mr. Crane was introduced. He had some apt introductory illustrations. Christian Endeavorers need enthusiasm.

Enthusiasm for the pledge. What is worth doing is worth promising to do. The pledge is the time-table of Christian life. There can be no progress without a program. Enthusiasm in committee work. Need monthly meetings of executive committee regular. We get out of the Christian Endeavor work what we put in. Nowhere is apathy so out of place as in Christian work, nowhere so destructive, but sad to say nowhere so common. Private prayer is the secret of public power.

Miss Koch spoke about a half hour on the topic, "The Ideal Endeavorer's Relation to the Society." Religion is not abstract but concrete. "The Ideal Endeavorer's Relation to the Society," by John Bunyan, will be given as a reward. The puzzles are not hard to solve.

The answer to the prize enigma which appeared in the ADVERTISER dated May 2, is Ella Wheeler Wilcox. The correct solution was sent by Mrs. Isaac De Costa, Holbrook, Mass.; Mrs. S. W. Bradley, Nashua, N. H.; Mrs. J. H. Bennett, East Boston, Mass.; Sewell J. F. Lombard, Faversham, Mass.; Caroline E. Carman, Oxford, and Mrs. A. B. W. of the book offered for the fifth solution.

Our puzzles this month are for Sunday school scholars, but may be solved by any reader of the paper, and the names of all who answer one puzzle will be printed in the ADVERTISER in the order received.

West Bethel, Me.
 At noon, Tuesday, the Baptist church was filled with friends gathered to witness the marriage of Annie Hutchinson Pepper and Everett Wilcox Varney.

The guests were welcomed and seated by the ushers, Messrs. Spencer and Beck of this city and Messrs. Fiske and Libby, college classmates of the groom. The church had been elaborately decorated under the direction of Mrs. E. C. Whittemore and Mrs. E. B. Foster.

In the Christian Endeavor movement, the fountain banked with ferns and surrounded by beautiful palms. The front of the platform was draped in white variegated by the green of the maiden-hair plants and flowers.

Bows of maroon and lavender and of blue and gold ribbon marked where the Sigma Kappa society, of which the bride is a member, and Delta Upsilon, Mr. Varney's fraternity, were gathered, while the seats of the King's daughters of the Baptist church were designated by royal purple.

The guests enjoyed appropriate selections on the organ until to the familiar strains of the Lohengrin wedding march the bride party entered from the rear of the church led by the four ushers.

Flowers were strewn before the bride by little Charlotte Birnie, daintily robed in white muslin, and Master Stephen Coburn, Pepper.

The bride, exquisitely gowned in white muslin trimmed with duchesse and point entered on the arm of her brother, Charles Hovey Pepper of Concord, Mass. She wore a long veil of tulle and carried a bouquet of bride roses. The maid of honor was Alice L. Nye of Auburn who wore a dress of white grenadine over pink.

The bridesmaids were Lenora Bessey of this city and Janet C. Stephens of Norway, charming in white muslin with pink choux and picture-hats. They carried pink carnations. The gift of the bride to the bridesmaids, maid of honor and flower girl were duchesse handkerchiefs.

The procession was awaited at the altar by the groom who was attended by Henry W. Dunn of this city as best man. The ceremony was performed by Dr. G. B. Pepper who used a modification of the Episcopal service, after which prayer was offered by Rev. E. C. Whittemore. The procession then formed and marched down the aisle to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Varney left on the 3 o'clock train for the seashore where they will spend the summer.

An Antidote For Worry.
 Correct breathing is the first part to cultivate in the pursuit of beauty, just as it is the first step toward improvement in health. As a woman breathes, so she is, for the poise of the chest is the keynote to the whole figure. When the chest is in the proper position, the fine points of artistic wearing apparel and all the little trifles of fashion are seen to best advantage.

Even humble materials assume a certain elegance hitherto unknown. But if it is carried badly the figure droops and falls into ugly angles. Nothing sets well, no garment seems right, if it is wrong to make the bone structure do most of the work in keeping the body upright. The muscles should hold in position, otherwise grace is out of the question and good health is absent.

To breathe correctly keep the chest up, out, forward, as if pulled up by a button. Keep the chin, the lips, the chest, on a line. Hold the shoulders on a line with the hips. The observation of these directions will insure the gold skirts and rainy-day costumes a real dignity and picturesque effect. Breathe upward and outward, as if about to fly, waving in the air with slow, deep breaths and letting it out gently.

This conscious deep breathing, repeated ten or twenty times at intervals during the day, tends to expand the chest permanently, to give it classic poise and style. Repeated four times, it is said to be a cure for worry.

Sunday School Puzzles for July.

No. 1. ANAPYGRAMS.
 (a) What divinely supplied food is named in the International Sunday School Lessons for July 4th which when beheaded is a girl's name, when beheaded and curtailed is a human being?
 (b) What birds are named in the same lesson which after curtailment leaves a word meaning to lose heart in the face of danger or difficulty?

No. 2. HIDDEN TEXT.
 In the International Sunday School Lesson for July 12th (see Exodus xx, 1-11) the answer may easily be found.
 The first word is in xx, 8, not in xx, 9;
 The second word is in xx, 2, not in xx, 3;
 The third in xx, 1, not in xx, 7;
 The fourth in xx, 10, not in xx, 6;
 The fifth in xx, 8, not in xx, 9;
 The sixth in xx, 6, not in xx, 4;
 The seventh in xx, 10, not in xx, 3;
 The eighth in xx, 3, not in xx, 2.

No. 3. HIDDEN COMMANDMENT.
 If sinners entice thee, consent thou not. Thou shalt lie down and thy sleep shall be sweet.
 Riches profit not in the day of wrath. Men do not despise a thief if he steal to satisfy his soul when he is hungry.
 Take one word from each of the above proverbs of Solomon to make a verse in the International Sunday School Lesson for July 20th.

No. 4. ANAGRAMS.
 1. I good man-trap.
 2. I met vessel.
 3. I hat rags.
 Place the letters in the above anagrams so as to make three words found in the International Sunday School Lesson for July 27th.

To the person who first solves all the above puzzles, and sends the correct answers to "Puzzle Editor," Box 55, West Bethel, Maine, "The Ideal Endeavorer's Progress," by John Bunyan, will be given as a reward. The puzzles are not hard to solve.

The answer to the prize enigma which appeared in the ADVERTISER dated May 2, is Ella Wheeler Wilcox. The correct solution was sent by Mrs. Isaac De Costa, Holbrook, Mass.; Mrs. S. W. Bradley, Nashua, N. H.; Mrs. J. H. Bennett, East Boston, Mass.; Sewell J. F. Lombard, Faversham, Mass.; Caroline E. Carman, Oxford, and Mrs. A. B. W. of the book offered for the fifth solution.

Our puzzles this month are for Sunday school scholars, but may be solved by any reader of the paper, and the names of all who answer one puzzle will be printed in the ADVERTISER in the order received.

West Bethel, Me.
 At noon, Tuesday, the Baptist church was filled with friends gathered to witness the marriage of Annie Hutchinson Pepper and Everett Wilcox Varney.

The guests were welcomed and seated by the ushers, Messrs. Spencer and Beck of this city and Messrs. Fiske and Libby, college classmates of the groom. The church had been elaborately decorated under the direction of Mrs. E. C. Whittemore and Mrs. E. B. Foster.

In the Christian Endeavor movement, the fountain banked with ferns and surrounded by beautiful palms. The front of the platform was draped in white variegated by the green of the maiden-hair plants and flowers.

Bows of maroon and lavender and of blue and gold ribbon marked where the Sigma Kappa society, of which the bride is a member, and Delta Upsilon, Mr. Varney's fraternity, were gathered, while the seats of the King's daughters of the Baptist church were designated by royal purple.

The guests enjoyed appropriate selections on the organ until to the familiar strains of the Lohengrin wedding march the bride party entered from the rear of the church led by the four ushers.

Flowers were strewn before the bride by little Charlotte Birnie, daintily robed in white muslin, and Master Stephen Coburn, Pepper.

The bride, exquisitely gowned in white muslin trimmed with duchesse and point entered on the arm of her brother, Charles Hovey Pepper of Concord, Mass. She wore a long veil of tulle and carried a bouquet of bride roses. The maid of honor was Alice L. Nye of Auburn who wore a dress of white grenadine over pink.

The bridesmaids were Lenora Bessey of this city and Janet C. Stephens of Norway, charming in white muslin with pink choux and picture-hats. They carried pink carnations. The gift of the bride to the bridesmaids, maid of honor and flower girl were duchesse handkerchiefs.

The procession was awaited at the altar by the groom who was attended by Henry W. Dunn of this city as best man. The ceremony was performed by Dr. G. B. Pepper who used a modification of the Episcopal service, after which prayer was offered by Rev. E. C. Whittemore. The procession then formed and marched down the aisle to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Varney left on the 3 o'clock train for the seashore where they will spend the summer.

An Antidote For Worry.
 Correct breathing is the first part to cultivate in the pursuit of beauty, just as it is the first step toward improvement in health. As a woman breathes, so she is, for the poise of the chest is the keynote to the whole figure. When the chest is in the proper position, the fine points of artistic wearing apparel and all the little trifles of fashion are seen to best advantage.

Even humble materials assume a certain elegance hitherto unknown. But if it is carried badly the figure droops and falls into ugly angles. Nothing sets well, no garment seems right, if it is wrong to make the bone structure do most of the work in keeping the body upright. The muscles should hold in position, otherwise grace is out of the question and good health is absent.

To breathe correctly keep the chest up, out, forward, as if pulled up by a button. Keep the chin, the lips, the chest, on a line. Hold the shoulders on a line with the hips. The observation of these directions will insure the gold skirts and rainy-day costumes a real dignity and picturesque effect. Breathe upward and outward, as if about to fly, waving in the air with slow, deep breaths and letting it out gently.

This conscious deep breathing, repeated ten or twenty times at intervals during the day, tends to expand the chest permanently, to give it classic poise and style. Repeated four times, it is said to be a cure for worry.

IRRIGATION IN THE EAST.

Up to Date Farming Calls For a Constant Water Supply.
 The character of the farming in many parts of the east and its increasing tendency toward the production of crops of relatively high value have led those who have studied the question carefully to the conclusion that in a great many cases and for the present a small irrigating plant, which shall be sufficient to supply the needed water for a small area, say eight to ten acres, is, all things considered, the best line of work.

Professor E. B. Voorhees of New Jersey has probably made as practical a study of the irrigation question for the east as any one who could be named, and he states that the actual results tabulated from such plants already established are at least evidence of this line of work possesses a primary importance because promising quick and relatively profitable returns, though small because the undertaking is small. At least a dozen of such plants, he says, are in operation in the state, ranging in cost from $250 to $600. They are operated by steam, gasoline or wind power and are capable of irrigating from five to ten acres.

The crops grown under irrigation are chiefly vegetables, as lettuce, celery, potatoes, onions and the various berries, and while the cost of the plant is relatively high per acre those engaged in the work find it a profitable undertaking. In certain parts of the state, notably in the large meadows of the great swamp district, irrigation by gravity can be accomplished at small cost, and one farmer who takes advantage of the conditions has irrigated his low land for years and secures annually, regardless of the season, magnificent crops of hay.

The main thing which has been determined, however, according to Professor Voorhees, from such calculations and experiments as have been made is that throughout the entire east or for those states bordering the Atlantic ocean from Maine to Florida the irrigation question is actually a practical question, it is worthy of study, and its proper solution will mean much to the people in the utilization of their natural resources.

Large sums are invested in farm lands, and the incomes from these investments cannot be fully up to their possibilities without a more equal distribution of water throughout the growing season.

Intensive farm practice is developing at a rapid rate. It is the line along which progress must come in the east, and there is no element which has so marked a bearing upon its encouragement as that of water supply.

WHEAT SEEDING.
 Timely Suggestions For New York State by Professor Voorhees.

Experience with a three years' siege of Hessian fly some 40 years since, together with this year's experience, leads Professor Roberts of the Cornell university station to the following conclusions: (1) That wheat raising in the state need not be abandoned, but the number of acres should be reduced until by reason of such reduction every acre sowed will be raised under superior conditions; (2) that the soil must be so well fitted and so fertile that a strong, healthy growth will be secured in the fall though the sowing of the seed be delayed 10 to 15 days beyond the usual time, such preparation of the soil also helping the wheat to recover from any winter injury; (3) that the Hessian fly injures the wheat more on dryish and poor land than on moist but well drained, rich soils; (4) that thick seeding coupled with vigorous growth tends to ward off the fly; (5) that the resisting power of varieties varies greatly. Those with large, coarse, strong straw are less liable to injury than weak strawed and slow growing varieties.

There were at least six varieties grown in New York this season that were not appreciably affected by the fly, though numerous other varieties in the same neighborhoods were much injured. Of these only Dawson's Golden Chaff has been tested at the station, and this has been found to be a superior wheat for general culture. The other resistant varieties are Prosperity, No. 8, Democrat, Red Russian and White Chaff Mediterranean. While it is not possible to set any date for seeding to wheat in New York, it is thought that the best results will be obtained by waiting until after Sept. 20 or 25.

Sunshine and Sugar in the Beet.
 It is found that periods of comparative drought and sunshine having a duration of 25 to 40 days are highly favorable to high sugar and good purity in beets when these periods occur between Aug. 1 and freezing weather.

Agricultural Brevités.
 As to the single stem method of training tomatoes, it is the experience of American gardeners that better quality, handsomer and finer fruit can be grown on the trained plants than on those allowed to spread freely and an earlier crop.

The slugs which often attack the leaves of fruit trees after midsummer should be kept down if they are abundant. Otherwise by their injury to the foliage they may prevent the satisfactory ripening of the wood.

I have grown cabbage both in seed bed and in the field, and with the use of oyster shell lime I have never had a case of club root, says a New Jersey man.

Pyrethrum will make the cabbage worm short of breath, and at the same time it is not poisonous to the cabbage, remarks an exchange.

A Country Gentleman correspondent attributes the purity and fine growth of his clover to clipping it last fall, in September.
